

My Favorite Season

Seasons aren't we all partial to at least one? Yes, no, maybe so? Anyway, for me it is one, ^{season} in particular. You know, that one season with two names? That's right, autumn ^{is} the best season of them all!!

When ^I you walk outside to get into ^{the} your car for school, the brisk feel of the wind is covering ^{me} you like a jacket. The warm sun clings to ^{my} your skin and makes it somewhat bitter-sweet, warm ^{but} yet cold.

Be careful switching to you!

The look of fall is beautiful! Its warm colors are magnificent. They contrast with the cold look of the bare trees. While the trees are cold looking, the leaves look like they spent a little extra time under the sun.

Are the leaves on the trees or the ground?

Autumn has a very distinct fragrance. It smells of the harvest of corn and fresh cotton. The corn smells like grains, ^{but} as the cotton smells like fresh linen, ^{It} also smells of grass, very dead and dirt smelling.

The taste of autumn is sweet! For me, it tastes like delicious chocolate birthday cake. The savory turkey on Thanksgiving is cooked with perfection, ^{and} Even though Halloween has odd things and meanings,

Good smile

Good word choice

Is this because your b-day is in autumn?

the candy is Mmmm... Mmmm... Mmmm... Mmmm... Mmmm...

Maybe name of some of your favorites?

TASTY!

The marvelous sounds of fall are outstanding. [During football season, I ^{present}hear the loud announcer say stuff I ^{past}couldn't figure out if I ^{starts present goes to past!}tried!]

The crunch of the leaves when ^Iyou step on them is very odd sounding, but yet it is somewhat calming.

All of the qualities of autumn or fall are amazing. I just wish that I could send every little thought of fall to this paper, but that would be very hard. ^{however,} ~~But~~ all in all, I still think that autumn is the best season ever!!

- "but yet" is repetitive. They mean, in a lot of ways, the same thing.
- There are a lot of good details, but you could have elaborated (given more depth). They could have been tied together better in places.
- Conclusion is a little weak. Good attempt at not simply repeating things word for word.
