Dear Diary,

We did it, we arrived to Canada, the land where we can be free. I made it with all eleven too. I had to threaten many and warn few.

But we still made it. I really don't know why I never tried to take eleven slaves before. I guess that's a new gig for me. Well I guess I'll stay here with the slaves for like a month to give them a head start on new life. Maybe next time I go I'll try to reach a new record for...

I don't know 15 slaves. But then no one in the Railroad will take us in because they had problems with just eleven, especially in the first stop.

And if this next group is as worst as this one I'm gonna need more bullets. Just kidding! But times got hard I told them a few stories, and look where it got us... FREEDOM! But it's really cold and snowy here! Birr! Gotta go cook, Bye!

P.S - I was just bluffing with the gun.
